A Multitude of Changes

As students entered Manchester at the beginning of the school year, little did they know of what lay ahead. Soon, the Lancers were faced with a number of changes in the regime to which they had become accustomed.

Many changes were made by the MHS administration. One such change was the discontinuance of homeroom each morning. Thus, the ten minutes which formerly had been utilized by students to cram for the test first period, to do the forgotten English homework, or to catch up on the sleep missed the night before were lost. Moreover, with the loss of homerooms came the loss of the morning announcements over the intercome. To enable students to catch up on the latest news, the solution was found in hanging an electronic announcement board in the cafeteria. Also, physical changes were undergone throughout the school to upgrade our appearance and to hold the growing student body. Not only were new bleachers set up in the gymnasium, but new, cushioned seats were installed in the auditorium. And to facilitate the holding of classes, four new trailers were set up to accommodate expansion.

On the other hand, one modification which the administration had no control over was the set of new guidelines handed down by the State Board of Education which stated that all students must attend school for 180 days. This meant no senior exemptions. Not only did this upset the student body, but faculty members also became concerned. As a result, the Chesterfield County School Board held a meeting and decided that each separate school, if desiring exemptions, should draw up a proposal to allow seniors to be exempt but still attend the entire 180 days. Under the leadership and dedication of the Student Cooperative Association, ideas were proposed to the administration; and senior exemptions were alive once more! Regarding their future, the Lancers were finally turned to a path which was to be FREEDOM BOUND.

TOP OF THE LIST:

A survey was taken in mid-May in search of the "true favorites" of Manchester's student body. Eight major categories were placed on the ballots. These included the favorite songs, videos, groups, television shows, restaurants, cars, movies, and expressions. After tallying the votes, the following results were found.

EDITORS' NOTE — We submit our sincerest apologies that all answers could not be mentioned, especially under the favorite expression and movie categories; and we hope you will understand that we have guidelines to follow and supervisors to answer to.

First, we begin with the FAVORITE SONGS of 1986-1987.

FAVORITE SONGS:

The Top Four:
1. With or Without You — U2
2. Always — Atlantic Star
3. Never Say Good-bye — Bon Jovi
4. Wanted Dead or Alive — Bon Jovi

Other Favorites:
Don't Dream It's Over — Crowded House
The Finer Things — Steve Winwood
Higher Love — Steve Winwood
Brass Monkey — Beastie Boys
Walk This Way — Run DMC & Aerosmith
Living on a Prayer — Bon Jovi
Walk Like an Egyptian — The Bangles
Papa Don't Preach — Madonna
Danger Zone — Kenny Loggins
Land of Confusion — Genesis
Let's Wait a While — Janet Jackson
Holding Back The Years — Simply Red
Take on Me — a-ha
True Blue — Madonna
You Give Love a Bad Name — Bon Jovi
Lean on Me — Club Nouveau
Fight for Your Right — Beastie Boys
Mandolin Rain — Bruce Hornseby

Next, we move on to the Lancers' FAVORITE VIDEOS. Judging from our results, Music Television seemed to play a large part in the lives of many students; for some even replied that MTV was their favorite television show.

FAVORITE VIDEOS:

The Top Four:
1. Living on a Prayer — Bon Jovi
2. Land of Confusion — Genesis
3. Wanted Dead or Alive — Bon Jovi
4. With or Without You — U2

Other Favorites:
Take on Me — a-ha
Final Countdown — Bon Jovi
Control — Janet Jackson
Fight for Your Right — Beastie Boys/ Always — Atlantic Star
Lean on Me — Club Nouveau
You Give Love a Bad Name — Bon Jovi
C'est La Vie — Robbie Nevil
Take My Breath Away — Berlin
Danger Zone — Kenny Loggins
Walk This Way — Run DMC & Aerosmith
Holding Back the Years — Simply Red
Higher Love — Steve Winwood

There was a great amount of diversity in the next category, FAVORITE GROUPS. Both old and new groups received a number of votes, showing differences in students' tastes.

FAVORITE GROUPS:

The Top Four:
1. U2
2. Bon Jovi
3. Beastie Boys
4. Huey Lewis and the News

Other Favorites:
Journey
Cinderella
Led Zepplin
Genesis
Run DMC
The Jets
The Grateful Dead
Van Halen
Bruce Springstein

Throughout the year, many students could be found frequenting the many local theaters on Friday and Saturday nights. The most memorable of the movies are included in the following list.

FAVORITE MOVIES:

The Top Four:
1. Top Gun
2. Platoon
3. Secret of My Success
4. Golden Child

Other Favorites:
Nightmare on Elm Street III
Stand By Me
Crocodile Dundee
Some Kind of Wonderful
Ferris Bueller's Day Off

Other popular entertainment was provided by local and national networks. Sitcoms, soap operas, and cartoons all topped the Lancers' list.

FAVORITE TELEVISION SHOWS:

Sit-coms:
The Cosby Show
Moonlighting
Alf
Growing Pains
Family Ties
Cheers
Max Headroom
Who's The Boss?
MTV
Perfect Strangers
Night Court
Newhart

Soap Operas:
General Hospital
Days Of Our Lives
The Guiding Light

Cartoons:
The Smurfs
Pee Wee's Playhouse
The Gummy Bears

LANCERS' FAVORITES

Students' social activities also centered around restaurants, whether a restaurant was the place of the afternoon gathering with friends or the site of the first date with "that truly hot guy in my biology class." The Lancers responded to our survey in such a way that we have concluded that both were very important.

FAVORITE RESTAURANTS:

The Top Four:
1. Darryl's 1788 Restaurant
2. McDonald's
3. Pizza Hut
4. The Tobacco Company Restaurant

Other Favorites:
Taco Bell
Friendly
Capt. George's Seafood Restaurant
The Butlery Ltd.
Omar's Restaurant
Kabuto
Julian's Restaurant
Subway Sandwiches & Salads

The next category listed on our poll was the FAVORITE CAR. Some students wrote down their dream cars, while others took a more lighthearted approach. As one student replied, his/her favorite car was "anything that gets me where I want to go." Another student answered that his/her favorite car was a Batmobile, otherwise known as a big ugly station wagon. One must point out, however, that the dream cars did top the list.

FAVORITE CARS:

The Top Four:
1. Any and All Mustangs
2. Any and All Porsches
3. Any and All Convertibles
4. Lambroghini

Other Favorites:
Camaro
Ferrari
BMW
VW Bug
Fiat

Lastly, we have the results of the FAVORITE EXPRESSIONS. Needless to say, many responses could not be included in our final list; but we do hope that you will still be amused by those which were included.

FAVORITE EXPRESSIONS:

Killer!
That's cool.
Cool deal!
Let me tell your girlfriend.
What's up?
Yeah buddy!
Yeah! That's the ticket!
Sure I'm 21.
Life's a beach!
Chill.
That so fresh.
We're fightin'.

Making Memories

Some of the most memorable times in "Lancer Life" at Manchester were the school's student activities. Sharing with friends and participating in events helped to give Lancers their class spirit.

To kick off the excitement of the new school year, the upperclassmen held the traditional Powderpuff football game. The seniors led the class to their second victory. Shortly following was Homecoming weekend, and Amy Carroll was crowned queen. With its usual antics the Senior Faculty Basketball game was an entertaining evening as well as a close match-up. The Class of '87 ended up victorious.

The Blood Drive was a new experience for some Lancers. Almost 130 students surpassed the school's goal of 100 pints of blood donation. Other activities included the Freshman-Sophomore spirit chain, the Laser Light Show/Dance, Beach Bash '87, the S.C.A. 50's-60's dance, and the Concert dance put on by the Jazz band.

The arrival of Prom brought excitement. Students realized that the end was near. The S.C.A. assembly and Senior assembly recognized outstanding Lancers while the seniors started to say their last farewell at the Senior Banquet. The Class of '87 got ready for graduation while the Juniors and underclassmen looked on with admiration. They knew that their turn would soon come. Even though it was postponed due to over a week of snow days, graduation day finally came, and after practice that morning, Commencement ceremonies were held that afternoon.

Finally, the school year was over, and the students took memories with them. These memories and friendships led the Lancers forward.

Once Upon A Time

Homecoming, the first big event of the school year, was suspenseful and exciting. Before the football game against the Meadowbrook Monarchs, floats were paraded and judged for spirit and originality. The Seniors took the win for their float "Luke Skywalker vs. Darth Monarch." The Latin Club's float won first place in the club division.

At halftime the senior princesses proceeded to take their places on the field. Keri Hargrave, the former queen, built suspense by walking behind each princess before crowning her successor. After several minutes of this, she crowned Amy Carroll as the new Homecoming Queen.

Although the Lancers were defeated by the Monarchs 21-9, they played one of the best defensive games of the season. During the course of the game, three Lancer touchdowns were cancelled due to penalties. Lancer's spirit won this game.

The following night the Homecoming dance was held. The theme "Once Upon A Time" Made the night seem like a fairy-tale. Pastel balloons hanging from the ceiling and floating on the walls created a pleasant atmosphere. Musical entertainment was supplied by the band "First Class." Lancers made many memories.

S.C.A. Officer Todd Early said, "It was a lot of hand work, but the S.C.A.'s efforts really paid off. It was a terrific weekend!"

Dancing under the balloons, Amy Carroll and Tommy Campbell enjoy the evening.

2nd Victory for '87

Although it has always been a tradition for the Seniors to win Powderpuff football games, last year the class of '87 changed the rules. For the second time in Lancer history the Seniors have swept the powderpuff title for two consecutive years. As tradition would have it the crowd enjoyed the hilarious antics of the Junior and Senior guys as they attempted to imitate the cheerleaders.

After much preparation and sweat the girls were given their final pep talks by the coaches. Todd McCarthy, Mike Davis, Chris Tapscott, and Greg Hamill coached the Juniors. Greg Taylor, Mike Pollard, Glenn Dubiel, and Hans Jensen led the Seniors.

Another revived tradition was the Powderpuff court announced at halftime. Juniors and Seniors nominated their choices for representatives and the Seniors voted on their king. The Junior representatives were Todd McCarthy, Gary Steele, Mike Sturtz, David Zier, and Doug Zehner. Wayne Noel, Scott Crews, Bill Gillette, and Kenny Mason ended up as the Senior princes. The excitement hit a climax as Hans Jensen was crowned Powderpuff King. The evening ended with a final shut-out victory of 28-0.

Everyone who participated enjoyed the game. Senior Mike Mills commented, "I thought the girls played a spectacular game, and being co-captain of the cheerleaders added to the excitement of our victory."

Forever By My Side

For Juniors and Seniors the important night came on May the Ninth. Prom began the last phase of Senior school activities, but for the Juniors in attendance it was a new beginning.

The evening began as the couples enjoyed delicious meals at places such as the Marriot, the Sheraton, the Ramada Renaissance, the Tobacco Company, and Crab Louie's.

The musical entertainment was provided by the Magnetics who played top 40 songs. Finally, after a long wait, the Prom Figure began. When Kristie Bishop and Lori Blasioli announced the start, participants rushed to find their escorts. They began to form the three symbolic figures of a heart, a "M" and '87 to honor the graduating class. Following the completion of the figure, Prom King and Queen were announced. Joe Guth and Cindy Shelton reigned over the crowd.

The theme "Forever By My Side" will always be remembered by the countless pictures taken. As the evening came to a close, talk revolved around parties, the beach, and early morning breakfasts.

The Junior class gave the Seniors a prom to remember as the night will never be forgotten.

S.C.A. and Senior Assemblies

As May 27th rolled around, the student body knew that the end was near; for the annual S.C.A. Awards Assembly had finally arrived. Two days later on May 29th, a greater excitement was felt as the annual Senior Assembly was held.

During both assemblies, outstanding students were recognized by the administration, faculty, and local organizations. The P.T.S.A. awards were given to eight students: Latanya Butts, Shawn Arruti, Stacy Palmer, Matt Rafferty, Lori Blasioli, Todd Early, and Nancy Ames. Senior Rob Marshall received the Margret Pharr Award, and senior Glenn Dubiel received the Greg Carr Award. Receiving the English Award was junior Laura Bilyeu. Junior David Bayard was recognized for his achievement in physics, as was sophomore Becky Lankey for her achievement in chemistry. Senior Kristen Marxen was named the Outstanding Science Student. The Athletic Association noted three seniors, Robin Gaines, Nancy Ames, and Todd Early, for their contributions to Manchester's athletics. The Foreign Language Department recognized six seniors for their excelleration in languages. These students were Christy Craggs, Tanja Hussman, Linda Leverton, Deanna Putney, Beth Peterson, and Meredith Taylor. Laura Bilyeu and Lori Blasioli were each awarded a Yearbook Award. Sonia Austin and Mike Watts received the Lance Lowe and T.C. Stoots Award. Senior Earl Ingram won the I Dare You Award, and senior Rachel Young was recognized for her exceptional talent in American history. Seniors Scott Bennet, Jean Bergeron, David Ferguson, and Rachel Young were each honored for being scholar athletes. As the ceremonies came to a close, Meredith Taylor was named the Most Outstanding Graduate of Manchester's Class of 1987.

Time Together

On Friday night, May 29th, Seniors gathered together at Meadowbrook Country Club for one of their last meetings as a class. The traditional Senior Class Banquet was a time for goodbyes before the bustle of graduation began.

After eating dinner, the Class of '87 listened as the Senior choral members sang a song of tribute to their fellow classmates. To highlight the evening, class testators Kenny Mason and Greg Taylor read the seniors' Last Will and Testament, and as always the faculty responded with their own entertaining version. As a conclusion, class pictures were given out, and later many seniors hosted their own get-togethers.

Baccalaureate was then held Sunday June 7th at Bethany Place Baptist Church. Services were led by Senior Class Chaplain Ginger Wilson's father. Graduation was rapidly approaching, and seniors began to prepare themselves for their last times together.

Commencement Arrives

After the winter snowstorm, seniors were uncertain of the exact date and time of their graduation, but even invitation corrections and the possibility of bad weather did not dampen senior spirit. Commencement was held June 13, 1987 at 3 o'clock in Lancer stadium.

Graduation exercises began with the procession of seniors escorted by the honorary Junior Marshals. After the Class of '87 filed in, Senior Class Chaplain Ginger Wilson read the Invocation and seated them. The welcome was given by Salutatorian Rachel Young, followed by the class president's address presented by Robin Gaines. The Manchester band performed some special music conducted by Christy Craggs, a graduating senior. Encouraging the class to use their opportunities and take action was Valedictorian Lisa Morowitz. After more special music, sponsor Myra Shumate introduced Keynote speaker Coach Lloyd Swelnis. His address gave the seniors an encouragement as well as a picture of real life. At the conclusion of his speech, sponsor Shirley Rash recognized all scholarship winners and the college which each planned to attend. Principal David Jones handed out each diploma, as Don Storino announced the graduating seniors. The Benediction was led by Ginger Wilson and was followed by Principal Jones' pronouncement of graduation. The Class of '87 responded with a cheer and the traditional tossing of caps.

For each senior, Commencement symbolized the end of a Lancer Life and the beginning of a new one.

Pursuit of Excellence

The beginning of this school year held many changes in store for Manchester students. At the commencing of the year, seniors were told that the senior privilege of exemption from exams was no longer in practice. However, the administration, working within the guidelines set up by the School Board, was able to restore this privilege to seniors who qualified for it. Lancers were also faced with a new attendance policy that had some students going to Saturday School for detention if they had excessive tardies.

When students finally did go to class, they found that the work is long, hard, and even a little boring at times. However, they still did their best in pursuit of academic excellence. Fortunately for students, the teachers and faculty did their best to alleviate the monotony. This year, honors government classes went to Washington, D.C. to observe the functions of our federal government. The foreign language department sponsored seminars to culturally enrich students along with a foreign language week in the spring complete with contests and prizes. Junior Larry Harman won the trivia quiz and the accompanying cash prize. Biology classes received another visit from the Snakeman. In addition, the various clubs that sponsored field trips throughout the year helped to create exciting times for Manchester students.

Academic excellence has always been the tradition at Manchester, and every year the top eight students in the junior class are chosen to be Junior Marshalls. However, nine Manchester juniors were selected in the spring because of a tie in grade point averages. These outstanding students aided in the running of graduation, the senior assembly, and other senior activities. The Gold Mind Games allowed many students to test their abilities by competing against students from around the county in various challenging games. Also, Manchester was proud of its Battle of the Brains team which consisted of Elizabeth Howe, Larry Harman, Gil Logan, and Channon Chambers because they survived through third-round competition, an achievement unheard of in recent years. In the spring, the SCA Assembly not only allowed the student body a break from the normal morning routine, but it also recognized those students who had excelled academically.

The year was marked by scholastic achievement in all areas of academics. From freshmen who became accustomed to the rigors of schoolwork at Manchester to jubilant seniors, victorious in their quest to obtain exemptions, the year was filled with academic excellence. All reveled in their pursuit to be

ACADEMICS

Debate

A Time For Rebuilding

The future did indeed seem bleak for the Manchester debaters as they entered the new school year, for they had to adjust to a new coach, the loss of many varisty debaters, and the advancement to triple A competition. However, with the help of some new recruits, the remaining varsity debaters were able to continue the tradition of collecting trophies and dominating local tournaments. In so doing, two teams, consisting of Larry Harmon and Kelly Smith along with Mark Sanger and Andrew Speno, advanced on to the state tournament at University of Virginia.

New Debate Coach Mrs. Malone commented, "It was a good year for rebuilding after most of the debaters graduated the previous year."

Included in the rebuilding process were novice debaters Steven Cooter and Steve Watts. They won the Rappahanock Tournament along with Mark and Andrew. Larry and Kelly consistently won speaker awards through out the year at major tournaments. Also receiving speaker awards was senior David Cooter. David and Elizabeth Howe were the only team to make it to the quarter finals at a tournament at UVA in the winter. They usually placed well at all the tournaments they went to. The high point for the whole team had to be when they won the Tourner Ashby Tournament in the spring.

Many debaters felt there was much misconception, on the part of the average person, about a debater's life. In between tournaments they went to the beach, parties, and even had dates!

First year debater Jay Wheeler says, "The all night card games before the tournaments made debating worth while!"

Forensics/Speech

Outspoken MHS Students

Forensics, though not excessively numerous in membership, is actually an extremely active program. This year students participated in contests regarding public speaking, persuasion, and reading and interpreting poetry and prose. Under the guidance of Mrs. Bonnie Norfleet, members competed in the University of Virginia and Longwood Invitational Tournaments. Also, members participated in the district competition. Gill Logan, Krista Setlin, and Renae Carter advanced to the regional competition, where Gill and Krista advanced to the State Finals. Overall, the year was very successful, and all look forward to the success of up and coming students who are showing potential.

The main goal of the Speech Class, taught by Mrs. Diane Harris, is to prepare students for any type of public speaking. Any and all kinds of speeches are given. These include persuasive speeches in which a student attempts to sway others to a particular opinion, impromptu speeches in which a topic is thrown out and a student must talk about it, and "how to" speeches in which a student demonstrates how to do something. During the year, speech students were amused by the many "how to" speeches; an exceptional speech was presented by Karen Geiger. In her presentation Karen demonstrated the correct way to put on scuba gear. Another fun event proved to be the mock Newlywed Show. Each student took on both the mental and physical aspects of his/her character (which ranged from a nerd to a yuppy) in order to make his/her character authentic.

As June Stell commented, "It was a lot of fun to put it all together, to see it on film, and then to laugh at each other!"

All students are urged to take Speech, for the class is great preparation for Forensics or Debate. More importantly, however, Speech serves as a background for speaking in front of others.

European Tinge Enjoyed by Manchester

Many new faces were seen at Manchester this year, and included among these were two German exchange students. Barbara Filser and Tanja Axinia Husmann joined the ranks and files of the Manchester Class of 1987.

Throughout the school year, Tanja and Barbara showed their academic abilities and their interests in extracurricular activities. Both were enrolled in honors and above average classes; and throughout the year, both maintained A averages. In addition, Tanja received a gold medal for her Summa Cum Laude Award in the National Latin Exam, Barbara was a part of the Lance Singers, and both were active members of the drama and Latin clubs.

Tanja and Barbara sited vast differences in the lifestyles of American and German students. As Barbara pointed out, "The rules in the schools in Germany are less strict, but the relationship here between the students and the teachers is much warmer and friendlier."

Tanja commented about the differences which she saw, "When I came here, I was amazed by the school spirit. There is no such thing at home. There are drama groups and some sport teams, but there are not many clubs. At first, I thought it was funny, but then I really liked how people got involved in school events. The big thing we don't have are the dances like Homecoming and Prom. People don't really dress up like that except when they go to a dance school to learn standard dances."

Many changes have ensued the girls' separation from the lives which they had been used to. Barbara mentioned that she had become more independent, but her greatest change was in her appearance. Tanja stated that she too had become more independent; and that although there had been a distance between herself and her home, she had actually become closer to her family. She commented, "It is very hard to image ever arguing about trivial things with my parents again."

Exciting and humorous events which happened throughout the year will be remembered forever. Both enjoyed their trip to Washington, D.C. with Amy Bucklen to see the United States Capitol and to visit the German Chancellor. Also, both had fun on their trips to Virginia Beach; and Tanja enjoyed skiing with her hostbrother, Mark Wenberg. Eating a peanut butter and jelly sandwich was a new experience for Barbara, as was getting a driver's license for Tanja. Both girls had fun trying all kinds of new food, and Mexican food rated at the top of their lists. As Barbara stated, "The entire year will be a special memory for both of us!"

Freedom Bound Aura

Manchester High School opened its doors this fall to over 1600 students, making the largest student body in the school's history. There were several new faculty members to add to an already fine corps of teachers. Diversity marked Manchester this year with a variety of different styles and personalities. Each class distinguished itself and showed their Lancer spirit. The freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors all had reasons to be happy — they were all FREEDOM BOUND.

For the freshmen, their freedom lies with the mere fact of being in high school. Most begin seeing friends after school, join extra-curricular activities, and begin dating. The high school atmosphere provides a sense of greater liberty for the newcomers.

As a sophomore, one can finally "shake off the mortal coils" that a freshman wears. Sophomores are used to high school, and they enjoy having experience and seniority over the freshmen. Their faces look a little brighter, as they can participate in many more activities, such as driver's ed. and the ordering of class rings.

Juniors find their freedom in the "veteran status" which they too possess. They receive their class rings and play in the Powderpuff game. Their officers plan the Prom, which the entire class can attend. Overall, they are respected a little more and begin thinking about college and the future.

Seniors, of course, have the greatest freedom of all. They have several senior-only privileges. Seniors are highlighted in Powderpuff, Prom, and special events in which they can participate. They apply to and are accepted by colleges and universities. A senior knows that this is it, and, especially in the spring, parties prevail every weekend. Although all four classes were FREEDOM BOUND, the senior class best expressed the theme of salvation. Senior graduation activities heightened this sense of liberty, which culminated ultimately in graduation itself.

Road To Freedom Bound

Although the Class of 1987 eagerly await their graduation, there are also thoughts of apprehension as they take their first step towards freedom. Some of our Seniors reflect on this thought.

"I'm excited about graduation, but I'm scared and sad about leaving my friends." Ginger Wilson

"Yesterday was the birthplace of today." Chaunda White

"If I had the chance, I'd do it all over again." Greg Arrington

"I never thought it would end, but once it got down to the last few days, I wanted to hold on to the memories." Deanna

Finally able to legally vote, Seniors take their oath.

SR. Force

The Seniors proved that the force was with them by winning first place for their Homecoming float. They blew the judges away with the "Star Wars" theme and the slogan, "Lance Skywalker defeats Darth Monarch!" Thanks to the ideas and support of many Seniors, the Class of 1987 will leave Manchester holding the title for the first place Homecoming float.

Helping with the float, Stacy Osborn and Shannon Patterson decide what to do next.

Victorious seniors carry the [illegible] from their float.

The Royal Court

The Senior Class was represented by an array of Princesses this year. For veteran Princesses like Nancy Ames, Co-Captain of the Girls Varsity Basketball team, and Kelly Gallagher, President of the SCA, this was old hat; but for the others, this was their first time to shine in the spotlight the Homecoming Court offers. The new Princesses chosen were Michelle Rudd, Secretary of SADD, Robin Gaines, Senior Class President, Melanie Burkeen, and Stacy Osborn. Stacy, Vice-President of her class and a Lancerette, stated that, "It was a night I'll never forget." Melanie, a Varsity Cheerleader Co-Captain, commented that, "It was an honor to be chosen as a Princess by my classmates. It's a nice way to remember my last year at Manchester."

Escorted by her father, Douglas Rudd, Michelle Rudd smiles for the crowd.

Smiling for the camera, Kelly Gallagher waits for the parade to start.

"What?" says Mr. Storino's AP students.

Survivors

This year, the students in Mr. Storino's English classes ordered T-shirts saying, "I survived Lord English '87. Aren't I special?" Mr. Storino's AP class found this especially appropriate. Requirements for the class included reading eight novels and writing papers on each, a fifteen-page research paper, and his horrible vocabulary tests. AP History also required many hours of reading the next and outside novels, not to mention numerous quizzes given by Mrs. Easton on the material. On top of these classes, a few added AP Calculus. One could always tell when Mr. Gunter had tested — his students couldn't even remember their names afterwards. As if this weren't enough, some chose to take AP Biology, also. Many AP students took two or more of these classes — and they are definitely the survivors.

Reigning Queen

Amy Carroll was a Varsity Cheerleader, a member of SADD, and a Powderpuff Cheering Coach — and at one special football game, she became the 1986 Homecoming Queen. As the crowd held its breath, the 1985 Homecoming Queen, Keri Hargrave, strolled behind each of the seven hopeful Senior Princesses. The crowd roared as Keri removed a surprised, but jubilant, Amy's hat and placed the traditional crown upon her head. Amy's escort, Luther A. Carroll, Jr., was as proud as a father could be. When asked to comment on her new royal position, Amy stated that:

"It was a great honor, and it's something I'll never forget."

Riding in the Homecoming Parade, Amy anxiously awaits half-time.

The newly crowned Queen waits patiently for Keri to pin on her sash.

Smiling royally, Amy is escorted by Mr. Jones.

All The King's Men

Once again, the Homecoming spotlight was centered on the cheerleaders at the Powderpuff game who stole the show with their flamboyant costumes and routines. All of the senior boys, guided by coaches Krista Setelin and Amy Carroll, came "equipt" and prepared for the performance. Traditionally, the queen of the court is adorned with the Homecoming crown, but her male counterpart at Powderpuff, Hans Jensen, fit into his role as King perfectly. "As far as cheering ability, we were about even with the real cheerleaders, but physically we were nothing alike," said cheerleader Robbie Johnson.

Taking the spotlight, Nels struts his stuff.

Showing their acrobatic talents, the guys build a pyramid.

Escorted by Mrs. Jones, the Powderpuff King of 1986 is presented to the Lancers.

Caps 'N Gowns

Wednesday, November 5th was a big day for the Class of '87. It was on this day that they ordered the long awaited caps, gowns, announcements, and personal name cards. Some even ordered personal keepsakes offered by the Herff Jones Company, such as Memory albums and souvenir tassels. The costs for these items were:

Cap & Gown	$11.50
Announcements	.32 each
Name Cards	7.00 per 100
Albums	7.50
Tassels	3.00

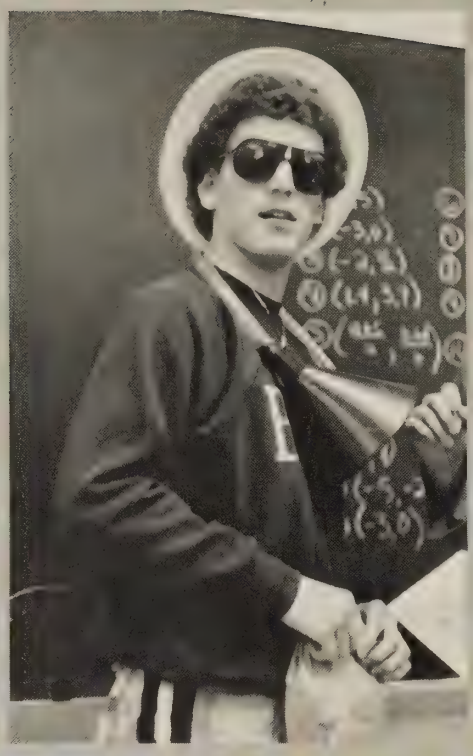
Surfin' Safari

Despite the winter weather, Senior Beach Day was a large success. Towels were slung over shoulders, sunglasses shaded many eyes from the harsh school lights, and wild Jams added color to a dreary day. The scent of Tropical Blend floated through the air. The Class of '87 ignored the chill, accepted the fact that their lips were blue, gritted their teeth at the winter wind, and proved that where there is not a real beach, they know how to make one.



Showing his spirit, Mike Poh donns his shades and his beach hat.

Some of the more serious beach bums, like Kenny Mason in his awesome surf shirt and mirrored shades, even carried coolers.

Fantastic Five

"Our officers have been so incredibly energetic and enthusiastic. They have done so much demeaning work that most people are unaware needs to be done — from counting money, proofreading, typing, organizing and distributing caps and gowns, running errands, selling tickets, making signs, writing speeches, and answering complaints. We could not have found a better group to work with even if allowed to hand pick." This very accurate quote was from the Senior Class sponsors Mrs. Shumate and Ms. Rash, and it basically says it all. The 1987 Senior class was lead by President Robin Gaines, Vice-President Stacy Osborn, Treasurer Amy Harris, Secretary Elizabeth Schmick, and Chaplain Ginger Wilson. These five ladies, with the help of two extraordinary sponsors, deserve a round of applause for a great Senior year!

Walk on the Wild Side

"They made it look so easy!" exclaimed Cassie Clancy.

The junior guys practiced and learned cheers after school in order to be ready for the big game. With the help of Kiki Larson and Andrea DuVall, they were ready to perform before the junior class supporters.

The junior powderpuff cheerleaders and lancerettes were Richard Anderl, Mark Barrett, Chris Bleu, Brad Carper, Ike Carr, Eric Estrada, Dean Kimbrough, Matt Lambert, Jason Minadakis, Mark Sanger, Andrew Speno, Scott Tilton, Joel Traylor, Chuck Walker and Jason Wallace.

"The most inspiration was from the cheerleaders' spirit and enthusiasm. It was enough to keep the sidelines cheering throughout the game, even when our team was down," Carrie Wood commented.

Most of the cheerleaders got their outfits from their mother's, sister's or girlfriend's closet. "It was weird at first, but when you made the entrance and saw all your other friends dressed like you, it helped set the atmosphere and excitement," Richard Andrel remembered.

Strutting his stuff, Joel Traylor dances for the crowd.

Junior Storybook Spirit

"Once upon a time . . . " there was a junior class with a multitude of spirit. Doug Zehner said, "Everyone put a lot of effort into our homecoming float." The float presented a storybook in a fantasy land. The class president, Doug Zehner, was portrayed as defeating and capturing the Monarch's lion. When the judges announced the second place victory for the juniors, disappointment permeated the air, yet everyone was looking forward to next years homecoming game.

The junior class princess were Nikki Buck and Melissa Kinnan. Nikki Buck stated, "It was a total surprise!" Nikki was escorted by her father Lyle Buck. Melissa was escorted by her father, William Kinnan. Melissa commented, "I was shocked and glad to have been chosen by my peers."

Lyle Buck, a proud father, escorts Nikki Buck onto the field.

To The Rescue

Two students have managed to take time from their schedules to volunteer for the Manchester Rescue Squad. Allison Knight and Larry Harman give much time after school and on weekends staying at the station waiting for calls to carry them out to heart patients, car accidents, as well as the routine public assistance.

To become a member of the rescue squad, one must take CPR, Advanced First Aid, and an Emergency Care class. Members are required to advance this training one year after becoming a member. Comments Larry, "Getting through training was hard; but once you've finished and you're out helping people in need, it's worth it."

Larry and Allison are regular members of the squad. They volunteer every six days, and give up twelve hours a week. On every sixth weekend they have to work a twenty-four hour shift. Concludes Allison, "You really don't think about how many hours you're volunteering just as long as you know you're helping someone."

Four Minds Conquer All

Under the leadership of class President Doug Zehner, Vice-President Melissa Kinnan, Secretary Paige Harris, and Treasurer Amy Austin, plans were under way for the many activities involved in the new year.

Class sponsors Mrs. Nuckols, Mrs. Primus, and Mrs. Saxon assisted the officers in ring distribution, preparations for powderpuff, and making arrangements for prom. They also helped organize a food and toy drive for a needy family during the holiday season. Mrs. Saxon commented, "I've seen them grow a lot since last year. They've grown as individuals."

The officers provided their class with guidance as well as a sense of spirit and enthusiasm. Commented Secretary Amy Austin, "I feel representing the class is very important." This seemed the prevailing attitude among all of the officers. President Doug Zehner summed up all of the officers' feelings by saying, " . . . our class has the best potential of any ever to go through Manchester, and if we pull together through this next year, our Senior year will illuminate the pages of Manchester history."

Get A Job!

Finally old enough to take on after school jobs, many sophomores had their first taste of the working world. The students could be found everywhere from fast food restaurants to drugstores. Often, jobs like this pay just the minimum wage, $3.35.

Most students are willing to work for low wages in order to cover their "expenses." These include clothes, dating, and car maintenance. For a high school student, every dollar helps.

Said Cheryl Swain, "It's fun because I make lots of new friends and get my own money to spend."

Brian Glauser likes his new job, but adds that there are some disadvantages. "Grades can start to slip because of lack of time for studying. The money is worth it, though!"

A Storybook Evening

The theme for Homecoming was "Once Upon a Time," and this year's sophomore princesses, Cherise Chambers and Stacey Carter, certainly had a storybook evening.

"I was very excited and surprised that the sophomore class chose me to represent them," commented Stacey.

Said Cherise, "Even though I was nervous, my dad kept me smiling by cracking jokes. Overall, it was a wonderful experience."

The float committee put a lot of work into the sophomore float, which ranked third in the class competition.

Wearing her brightest smile, Stacey Carter joins the Homecoming court.

License To Freedom

Many sophomores are excited about driving "Behind the Wheel" and taking another step towards freedom. Miss Goff, a driving teacher, commented, "I hope that students will learn to drive responsibly and realize the importance of safety and driving skills that are needed to be a good driver."

Robbie Watkins remarked, "I hope everybody has as much fun as I did in Behind the Wheel."

However, getting your license isn't all fun. It requires many responsibilities, such as running errands for parents and providing transportation for little brothers and sisters. Tanya Pearson added, "Driver's Education makes me aware of the responsibility of having a license. One has to earn the privilege of keeping a license."

Entering the Driver's Ed. car, David Smith prepares to go for a spin.

Several sophomore class officers are re-elects from last year. Said Vice Pres. Anne Davis, "It was a great honor to be re-elected. I was looking forward to our sophomore year." Also re-elected were Stacy Palmer and Kim Rudd. Sonja Pendleton is the only newly-elected officer.

The officers were responsible for organizing a successful fund raiser in which wrapping paper was sold. Also, the officers were the backbone of the class Homecoming float.

Commented President Stacy Palmer, "It was a privilege to be re-elected. I think our hard work has paid off through Homecoming activities and fund raising."

Instrumentalist Extraordinaire

John Winn, only a sophomore, is already proficient on three instruments. He plays clarinet, saxophone, and piano.

John is involved in marching band, stage band, symphonic band, and Capital Swing. His father, a music supervisor for Chesterfield County, serves as an inspiration. John has even been paid to play gigs with his dad.

John has composed some of his own music, and he added, "The Beatles are my inspiration for my musical compositions."

"I enjoy all types of music. Symphonic music is a different kind, but I can play it and still appreciate Zeppelin," commented John.

"Music is what I want to do."

Debate Fever

Two sophomores on the debate team have found forensics both exciting and challenging. Steve Cooter and Stephen Watts, both novice debaters, brought home a first place trophy from the Rappahanock H.S. Tournament.

Asked what he thought of his success, Steve Cooter commented, "Being around the varsity debaters gives us ideas we can use to debate effectively."

"During cross examinations, things sometimes get out of hand," remarked Stephen Watts. "I don't have any time to think; I just start firing away."

"Most people don't enjoy research, but when you get a good idea, you get 'debate fever,'" added Steve Cooter.

Freshman Honor

One of the most anticipated events associated with homecoming is the election of the homecoming princesses. The freshmen class was represented by Jennifer Marxen and Sherri Collins.

"I was really surprised and happy when I heard I had been elected. It's a great way to start off my freshman year," said Jennifer.

"Being freshman princess is a real honor. I didn't think I'd really win. I feel flattered that people chose me to represent my class," remarked Sherri.

Both girls agree that being a freshman class princess was an exciting and memorable experience.

Thrills And Chills

On Orientation night, students and parents crowded on one side of the bleachers in the gym. On the other side, new bleachers were being built. The students sat fitfully through the speeches of the S.C.A. and faculty, waiting until they could visit with old friends. The Lancerettes did a routine to the song "Venus" and the cheerleaders performed several cheers. The crowd soon dispersed and explored the halls.

"Everything looked so big. I was scared to death and knew I'd never make it," said Jessica Maerz.

"I just didn't know what to think. I was lost as soon as I walked in," said Peter Smith.

"I saw a lot of my friends and we caught up on what we did over the summer," remarked Monique Povedano.

Starting

Out Fresh

Early in the fall, the Freshmen class held elections for class officers. A lot of hard work and effort was put into posters, handouts, and speeches.

The newly elected class officers were President Solette Tiscornia, Vice-President Megan Lamb, Secretary Tanu Trehan, and Treasurer Paige Kirby.

"Being president is a big responsibility. I'm honored to have been elected by people who thought I could handle the responsibility," said Solette.

"I think this year will be a good one. We plan to represent the freshmen class in the best way possible," commented Megan.

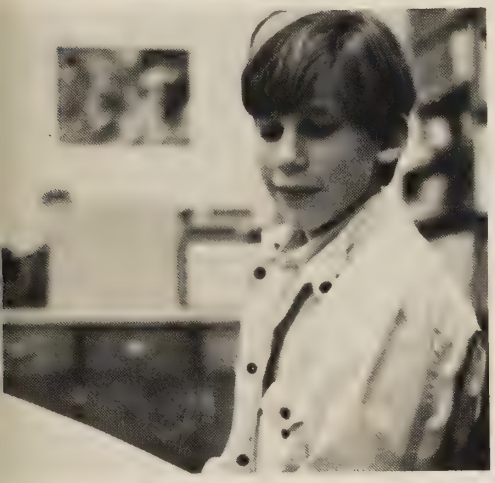
Jay Holzman Revisits the 16*th* Century; Chris Capps Jazzes it up in the 1920s!

Ninth grade marked more than the start at Manchester High School for Chris Capps and Jay Holzman. Ninth grade also marked the start of a promising future in singing. When these two were selected to participate in the two most prestigious chorus groups at Manchester.

"It's a big change from eighth grade," Chris, the only freshman in Capital Swing, says. "It's tough! It takes a lot of concentration to remember the music and dances, and it's hard to keep the energy level up."

Jay, the only freshman in Madrigals says, "Mrs. Wood is pretty tough. She pushes hard to get the very best from you. We're concentrating on blend, sound, and intonation while doing eight part harmony, which is hard."

Chris wants to continue on with chorus through high school and college, and he hopefully will pursue a musical career. Jay would like to eventually be in Capital Swing. Although he does not want to go into a musical career, he would like to continue performing through college.



Strutting his stuff, Chris moves with the beat.

Studying his music, Jay waits for the song to begin.

Sports Fanatic, Freshman Mark Briley, Gets Involved

What stroke of good luck could befall a six foot, four inch freshman who loves sports? Well, for Mark Briley it was his placement on both the Manchester High School J.V. basketball and baseball teams. Mark played center in basketball and first base in baseball. Mark's first love, if he had to choose, would be basketball. He can be considered an "old pro" at that sport, for he has been playing since the first grade.

Although he was the only freshman on the J.V. basketball team, he mixed well with the older members. "They encouraged me, and some of them even helped me with my game. On the court you're judged by your ability, not by your grade."

During the basketball season, Mark scored an estimated fifty-two points. When asked about these games, he replied, "Each one's a real challenge because some of our opponents are really tough. Sure it's hard, but I consider it fun because basketball is basketball; and that's my sport!"

Mark would like to keep playing both basketball and baseball. Why are sports so loved by Mark? "They're a good way to meet people, and they fill up most of my time. But mostly, I want to play because I love to!"

Watching his teammate warm-up, Mark contemplates defensive strategies.

Preparing to go to an away game, Mark awaits the arrival of the bus.

TEAMWORK

The administrative staff was led by Mr. David Jones. His assistant principals were Mr. Jeffrey Baughman and Mr. Clifton Johnson. These men proved to be a great asset to the students and faculty this school year. They worked together as a team. Each one backed up the other to present a strong, unified front. Several new policies this year were instituted to help the school day run smoother. The "Saturday School" tardy policy was one of the most controversial. The policy worked because there were very few repeaters. Mr. Baughman commented, "I thought that the administration used a team approach when working with new policies."

OUR LADY ENGLISH

The recipient of the Teacher of the Year award is determined by secret ballot among teachers and students. This year Mrs. Wamsley was the surprised winner. Presently, Mrs. Wamsley is a ninth grade English teacher, and her degrees include an A.B.A. in English and a Masters in Education.

Over a long period of teaching, there are bound to be many unusual and difficult problems. However, as Mrs. Wamsley commented about her nineteen years of teaching, "I can't really remember any." She deals with all of the petty problems as they arise, she puts them behind her, and then she moves on.

Ninth grade is her favorite level to teach. "I just like to watch the kids grow up." With two children and three grandchildren, she has definitely had a great deal of practice.

For students who have had her and for those who will have her in the future, her pet peeves include: no gum chewing, no propping feet on desks, and no disturbing others.

Her erudition in English and her congenial personality blend to create a unique and talented person. Manchester High School is grateful for all she has given to it and its students.

PERSONALITY PLATES

As students, one often has certain stereotypes created for various groups of people or professions. The teaching profession is no exception. Teachers are often thought of as rather boring, dull, and unimaginative. To dispell this theory, simply take a walk in the teacher's parking lot one afternoon. There you will find a hint of the creativity, imagination, and true personalities they possess. Here are a few examples:

AWZOOM: Mrs. Bonnie Norfleet's 300-ZX is one of the hottest faculty cars.
MHS BB: Who else could this belong to but Basketball Coach Charlie Smith?
MR. CHEM: Serving as the MHS science wizard, Mr. Jim Henry is not boastful.

New Mingles Among Old

This year new faces mingled among the old in Manchester's athletic program. The JV and varsity football teams, the girls' tennis team, and the JV boys' basketball team all experienced coaching changes. Also new to the program was a girls' soccer team and freshmen boys' basketball team. Still present, however, in Manchester's athletes was the desire to reach excellence through victory. Not only did players put an emphasis on teamwork, but they also strove for personal achievement.

The field hockey team was once again victorious, ending their season as district runner-up with a 7-2 district record. Although the team worked with great effort together, there were many individual accomplishments as well. Rachel Young broke two school records for the most goals scored in a season and the most goals scored in a career. Jean Bergeron had over 100 steals in the season, and goalkeeper Laura Bilyeu was the least scored upon goalkeeper in the district. The girls' tennis team also had a successful season by finishing with their best record ever. Finally, athletic achievement was seen in girls' gymnastics. The team placed second in the district and was led by the talent of Cindy Shelton. Cindy placed sixth in state competition and gave an outstanding performance in regional competition.

New leadership taught the athletes new techniques and skill. This was seen when Coach Kirk Cox guided the boys' junior varsity basketball team to the top of its district. The Lancers showed strong appreciation toward the new and old coaches, who sacrificed their time and effort to lead Manchester to many victories.

The introduction of a girls' varsity soccer program was one of the foremost changes for 1986-87. The enthusiasm for this team had been present at Manchester for some time, and the girls proved their desire to play by their performance on the field. The team beat most of their opponents by large margins and ended their season in a close game against Midlothian in the district tournament. Young talent composed a large amount of the team — freshman Michelle Barrett scored 14 goals during the season and made first team all-district. Sophomore Debbie Wade was also named to the all-district team, and freshman Monique Provadano made second team all-district. The girls finished the season as district runner-up and with a positive outlook for the future.

The triumph of the Lancers would not have been possible without the support of the faculty, students, and parents who came to the games to cheer the players on. Their spirit proved that athletics played a major role in student life at Manchester and displayed the athletes' destination to be FREEDOM BOUND.

Moving Up
But Not Out

The girls' field hockey team had another fine season, placing second in the district and breaking several school records. Coach Robin Wallmeyer felt that the team's best performance of the season was during their first match against Monacan, in which the Lancers defeated the Chiefs by a score of 1-0. "We played like a team, our skills were the best, and we took advantage of their mistakes;" commented Coach Wallmeyer, "beating Monacan was worth the whole season."

Many school records were broken, including the most shut-outs in a season, which now stands at ten. Goalie Laura Bilyeu was the least scored upon goalkeeper in the district. Senior Jean Bergeron had over 100 steals for an individual in a season. Senior, co-captain Rachel Young broke two school records, scoring the most individual goals in a season: 10, and the most career goals: 15.

Jean Bergeron and Rachel Young made both first team All-District and first team All-Regional. Senior co-captain Missy Chalkley and juniors Marla Robertson and Susan Mann were named to the second team All-Regional. Jean Bergeron was voted Most Valuable Player and Outstanding Defensive Player. Most Outstanding Offensive Player went to Rachel Young. Two players received the Most Improved Player Award, Elizabeth Johnson and Susan Spiller. "Our hard practice, dedication, and ability to come together as a team attributed to our successful season;" stated Missy Chalkley, "it was hard work, but it paid off with our many victories."

Gaining control of the ball, Marla Robertson begins to advance up the field.

Using team work, Susan Mann prepares to dribble past a Monacan player as Paige Harris hangs behind for support.

Striking back, Rachel Young will attempt to steal the ball from Monacan.

Team Spirit Prevails

Throughout the season both the Varsity and Junior Varsity Football teams experienced tough and trying times. David Wooten of the Varsity team stated, "Our season was overwhelmed by mental mistakes." This is an example of how both the Varsity and Junior Varsity teams' seasons went. The Varsity team also had another problem, their attitude. "When we wanted it we won, but our mistakes and attitudes lost it," said Mike Sturtz. Quarterback John Ferguson added, "Although our record was disappointing, we all pulled together and gave it our best shot." The Junior Varsity team had a slightly better record than the Varsity team, however, they suffered from similar problems.

Maybe the football season was not successful as far as records but some good things came about this season. Some good things happened to certain members of the Varsity team. The honor of being chosen to the All District team is a great one and Manchester players fortunate enough to be selected were Wayne Noel and Scott Crews to the second team. Receiving Honorable Mention were Mackie McCullough and David Wooten. "Sophomores and juniors should look forward to next year," commented senior Channon Chambers, "because next year they will have the experience necessary for a good season."

Setting A Difficult Pace

This year, both the girls' and the boys' cross country team started out at a slow pace. Coach Kevin Sours termed the team as a "big meet" team; they did real well in the big meets, but were defeated when competing against other individual teams. The big meets included three invitationals. Out of the 15 teams competing in the Powhatan Invitational, the boys' team placed fifth and the girls' placed fourth. At the William and Mary Invitational, boys' cross country placed seventh and the girls' team placed fourth out of 29 teams. UVA, the final invitational, had 31 teams compete; and both the boys' team and the girls' team placed seventeenth.

Both the boys' and the girls' cross country team finished fourth in the district and tenth in the region. "The team was very hard working and dedicated. I felt that we had much improvement, especially from the girls," commented Coach Sours.

Senior Kim Fry and junior John Hessian received an award for the Most Improved Runner. The Most Dedicated award went to junior Scott Schiltz and sophomore Dana Conner.

High Hopes For Underclassmen

"This year's team consisted of the nicest group of boys I've been associated with in a very long time," commented Coach Charlie Smith. The team consisted of eleven members, none of which were seniors. Hodges Rash, who scored the season low of 35 points, was named Most Valuable Player of this year's team. Jeff Campbell received the Coaches Award, and Joel Traylor got the most improved player award. Joel stated, "The year did not go quite as well as we had hoped for it to, but we all had a good time together."

The team ended the season with an overall record of 2-12. "The high lights of the season were beating Bird with a 162 total and Heath Williamson making it to the regionals," stated Coach Smith. The team practiced everyday at Pine Lakes Golf and Country Club. Coach Smith added, "We had a lot of fun, and I am looking forward to next year."

For The First Time

For the first time in recent years, the girls' and boys' tennis teams were split up into two seasons. The girls started just a few weeks after school began and the boys' played during the spring. Lito Chavez commented, "It was so much easier, especially not fighting over court space for practice, and we gave each other support which helped a lot."

For the first time the girls' achieved their best finish ever in the district. They placed second losing a close match to Clover Hill in the Playoffs. The team, also, had an 8-3 record, their best ever.

Although tennis is considered an individual sport, many looked at how the girls were doing as a team. People were especially excited when the girls captured a much needed win over Clover Hill (7-2). This was their first win over Clover Hill in girls' tennis history. "We were all excited when we knew that we had beaten Clover Hill. We all worked hard and deserved it," said Andrea Mahler. People also took notice when the girls beat Monacan two consecutive times with scores of 5-4 and 6-3 respectively.

Individuals also did very well. Julie Campbell received the Most Valuable Player and had a personal record of 11-2. Receiving the Most Improved Player Award was Andrea Mahler, with a record of 9-2. Mr. Greenwood commented, "It was overall, a fine season."

The boys' team finsihed their season with a record of 4-6. Senior Glenn Dibiel won the Greg Carr Award, and Mike Lim received the Most Valuable Player Award and ended the season with seven wins and three loses. Receiving the Most Improved Player recognition was Sam Kim. Gary Huff said, "It was fun playing for Greenwood: however, we were only a few games away from a successful season."

Receiving congratulations for the win, Katherine Gregory goes to shake hands with her opponent.

Beginning Anew

Coming into the season, the girls' varsity basketball team seemed to be at a disadvantage. Not only did the team have to adjust to the coaching methods of their new coach, Ms. Robin Goff, but the team also had to face the greater competition in the newly entered AAA Division. Senior co-captain Robin Gaines stated, "This past season was the toughest of my four years of playing at Manchester; we had so many 'new' things to deal with: our new coach, the new league, and the new plays. The 6:30 a.m. practices were especially rough! However, all of the hard work payed off because we became more of a team and not just individual players."

The Lady Lancers ended their season marked by many close games, with an 11-11 overall record. Senior Tara Owens received the team's Best Defensive Player Award, and senior Amy Harris was given the Coaches Award. In addition, senior Nancy Ames was a key part of the team, and she was greatly missed when she was sidelined with an injury.

Coach Goff commented, "The girls were a sound, fundamental team, and they worked exceptionally hard to improve their skill." When asked what the biggest highlight of the season was, she replied without hesitation, "Beating Monacan!"

Earning Their Right

With a new coach this year, the Junior Varsity girls' basketball team proved that they have the strength to dominate the district. Coach Jennifer Gilbert led the J.V. team through one of their finest seasons yet, capturing the district and ending the season with an overall record of 14 wins and one loss. Their only loss was to Midlothian, a team that has been hard to beat over the years. However, the girls would get even. "Our biggest game was beating Midlothian the second time we played them," commented Coach Gilbert, "in doing this, the team secured their right to hold first place in the district."

Sonia Austin was voted Most Valuable Player. Julie Herr received the award for Outstanding Defensive Player, while the Coaches award went to Racquel Carter.

Getting Off To A Good Start

The boys' varsity basketball team had a great start this season, resulting in a 7-2 record after the first nine games. They gained big victories over Clover Hill, Monacan, and George Wythe. Unfortunately, the team fell into a losing streak. "The team did better then I thought they would," commented Coach Charlie Smith, "however, they did not do as well in the middle of the season as I thought they were going to do."

In the Dominion District Tournament the team gave fine performances. They defeated Huguenot, a team that was highly rated in the Times-Dispatch polls, and lost a very close game to L.C. Bird, a victory which was needed to advance to Regionals.

Beverly Ross was chosen by his teammates as the Most Valuable Player. He was the leading scorer, averaging twelve points a game and acquiring sixty-four steals throughout the season. Chip Lockhart, leading the team in rebounds, received the Most Improved Award and Dan Canfield walked away with the Coach's Award.

As the Skyhawks watch in awe, Robert Plummer leaps above the pack for a sure shot.

Aspiring Players

Manchester High School's junior varsity basketball team had a progressive season this year with an emphasis on the improvement of the individual player. The team ended the season with a 12-4 record and closed in a tie for first place in the Dominion District. Unfortunately, the J.V. team did not see any post-season action, as the district decided not to hold a title game this year.

Coach Kirk Cox did not expect to see so much improvement from his players, as Manchester proved to be a powerful team in the second half of the season. Sophomore Johnny Garrett became a dominant inside player, averaging twenty points a game. Darryl Deberry scored in the twenty point range three times and excelled at running the fast break and applying man-to-man coverage. Andre McLemore improved steadily and played his best basketball down the stretch. Mark Briley developed into a fine shooter, usually ranging in double figures during a game. Johnny Garrett received the Most Valuable Player Award, and Todd Ritter was given the Coach's Award. Displaying his leadership abilities on and off the floor, Todd was the most constant free throw shooter and the most coachable player. Lastly, Ryan Haynes received the Hustle Award.

On the whole, the Manchester junior varsity basketball experienced a successful season.

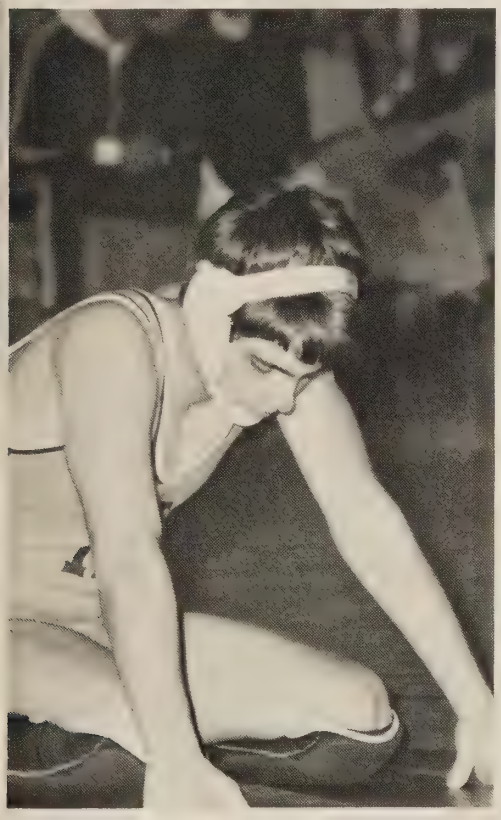
More Interest and Much Improvement

The Manchester wrestling team, coached by Richard Munroe and Lee Minadakis, completed one of its best seasons to date. Much of the team's success may be attributed to those who supported the team, including parents, managers, and coaches. Senior Alex Inge, a varsity wrestler, commented, "I saw a lot of improvement in my skill and my teammates' skill. The coaches did a lot to help us; they took the time to get out there on the mat and actually work with us. They didn't just tell us how to do something, but they showed us the moves. And that was important."

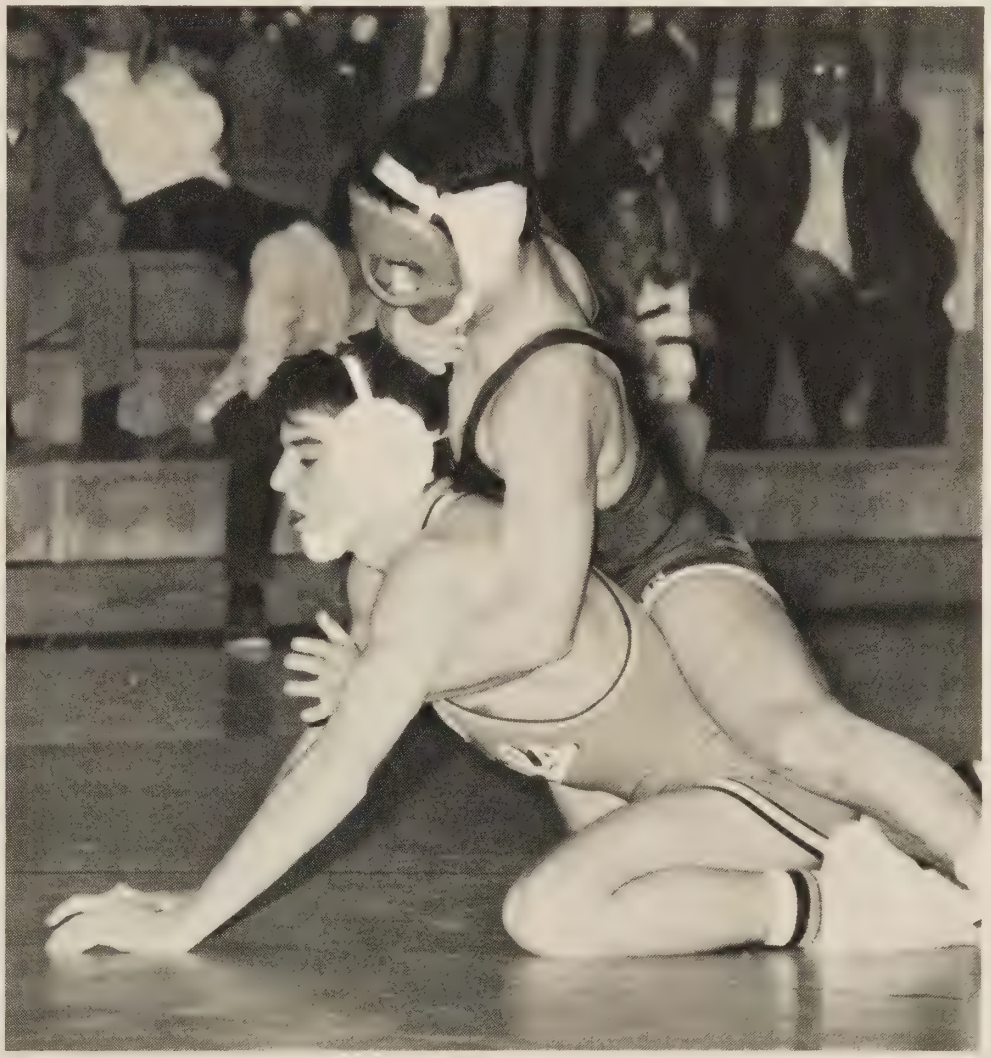
Manchester wrestlers showed their dominating skill at the District Meet. Junior Trevor Dodson won first place; Senior Scott Bennett, junior Jason Wallace, and Alex Inge each won second place; and junior Mike Sprouse won third place. Dodson, Sprouse, and Bennett advanced to Regionals. There Dodson and Sprouse won fourth place, and Bennett won fifth. Advancing on from that level, both Dodson and Sprouse competed in the State Meet. Not only was the team successful at Districts, Regionals, and States; but it was also victorious at other invitationals. At the Clover Hill Tournament Bennett, Inge, and Wallace each did quite well, for each took second place in his own weight class. In addition, the team won fifth place overall in the Monacan Invitational.

Awards were given out at the annual fall banquet. Scott Bennett, the team's captain, won the Most Valuable Wrestler Award; junior Paul Gettle received the Coaches' Award; and freshman Mike Lim was given the Most Improved Award.

Scott Bennett summed it all up, "Overall, it was a pretty good season. In fact, it was the best season since I've been here. We had a strong J.V. team, and I think the varsity team will be even stronger when those guys move up."



Ready to begin, Shane Powers awaits his opponent.



Jason Minadakis awaits the referee's signal to begin.

Snow Didn't Keep 'Em OUT

Threatening snow did not keep the girls' gymnastics team from having a fine season. Although many meets were cancelled because of snow, the team placed second in the district and qualified for regionals.

Senior Cindy Shelton had an excellent season. She was the district and regional all-around champion, district and regional champion on the beam, district champion on the vault, third in the district on the even bars, and she placed second in the region and district on the floor. Cindy was the only member of the team to qualify for, and placed sixth in, state competition. Cindy was awarded the Most Valuable Player Award for her success.

Sophomore Michelle Vestel was given the Most Improved Award. It was her first year on the team and she improved over four full points during the season. Coach Wallmeyer commented, "Many of Michele's distinctive and special moves came from her baton skills."

Senior Susanne Newell received the Coach's Award. She has been on the team for four years and both coaches felt that she kept an even disposition and helped with the team's positive attitude!

Gaining Confidence

As the season opened both the Junior Varsity and the Varsity soccer teams had to adjust to new coaches. Varsity boys' was coached by Mr. Nevin Finley. Lance Bowman, an alumnus of Manchester soccer, coached the J.V. team.

Both started out slow against Clover Hill, but quickly gained victories over Patrick Henry. The Varsity team finished with a 6-4-2 record and a third place ranking in the district. Jasson Minadakis commented, "We had some doubts and problems at the beginning of our season, but we really pulled together under our captains."

When asked who were the toughest teams, Mark Barrett replied, "Bird and Midlothian!" The Lancers tied Midlothian upon their first meeting and beat L.C. Bird 2-1.

Two Seniors were named to the All-District team. Keefe Raible was named to the First Team and Hans Jensen to the Second Team. Junior Mark Barrett and Sophomore Greg Mahan received Honorable Mention.

The J.V. team finished 4-4-2, with both ties coming at the hands of the two toughest teams, Monacan and Thomas Dale. Brian Glauser stated, "In both games, we came together as a team. We did as well as we did because of Coach Bowman. He gave us the support we needed."

Off To An Excellent Beginning

This year for the first time Manchester had an All-Girls Soccer team. The team coached by Miss Chaconas had a supurb season; they ended with a record of 8 wins, 2 losses, and 1 tie, and they placed Second in the Dominion District. With being the first soccer team consisting of only girls, all of the players had a standard to set for the many years of teams to come; this particular standard is definitely going to be a hard one to follow. Junior Rachael Thomas stated, "The most important quality of our team was our ability to work so well together. We all looked beyond the segregation of the various classes represented within our team."

The First Team All-District Honors went to Melissa Kinnan, Debbie Wade, and Michele Barret; and Monique Povedano received Second Team Honors. All Academic Awards were given to the two co-captains of the team, Melissa Kinnan and Rachel Young. The Most Valuable Player Award was received by Melissa Kinnan, who commented on one of the season's highlights, "I think the best game we had this season was against Clover Hill. In the last two minutes of the game we came back to score two goals; we went on to win the game in overtime 4-3."

Rachel Young, the only senior on the team, stated about the newly formed team, "I was really impressed by the large amount of young talent that composed much of the team. I was the only senior and the only person who will be leaving next year, so the team will remain intact and continue to grow strong." The future of Manchester's Girls Soccer team looks to be extemely strong and prosperous. Coach Chaconas added, "Girl's Soccer enjoyed a successful first year; we had a young, but talented and experienced team. The girls worked well together and by the end of the season showed team work and support. We had a lot of fun together this year and look forward to a great season next year.

Having the upper hand, Rachel Young dribbles toward the goal.

Individual Success

The Varsity girls finished their season with 8 wins and 8 losses in the Dominion District and 9 wins and 9 losses overall.

Coach Goff stated that throughout the season the team just did not seem to get the breaks, as seen in losing four games by one run. "The girls worked hard and long, and they deserved more recognition and more wins," she commented. However, some recognition was given to members of the team, as seen in their placement on the All District teams. These players were Kelly Jones, Jenny Herr, Sarah Bailey, Cindy Dunnavant, and Linda Noel.

At the annual spring banquet the Golden Glove Award was given to Sarah Bailey for completing the season with the fewest errors. Linda Noel held the teams highest batting average, and Kelly Jones received the Coach's Award.

Sarah Bailey commented, "Overall, I had a great time with everyone. We had a lot of fun."

Individual Improvements

The Junior Varsity Softball team ended the season with a 4-8 Dominion District record and a 6-8 overall record. One eighth grader, one ninth grader, and an overwhelming twelve sophomores worked together to pull through a season successful in individual improvement. "The '87 J.V. softball season proved to be one of development. Excellent seasons were turned in by sophomores Julie Herr, Gail Moore, and Tammy Pond. All three proved to be positive forces on the team. I look for all of the girls to have a bright future on the varsity level," commented Coach Gilbert.

Stolen Record

The Junior Varsity Baseball closed its season with a record of three wins and ten losses in the Dominion District and a 3 win 12 loss record overall. One team member commented, "During the season we struggled to put forth our best effort. We had a couple of really close games toward the end of the season."

At the spring banquet, Chris Ray was selected as the team's Most Valuable Player because of his skill and positive attitude. An eighth grader, Paul Jenkins, received the Coach's Award; and sophomore Mark Sulanke had the team's highest batting average.

The Varsity team ended its season with a 7-9 district record and 8-10 overall. Senior Wayne Noel set a new school record with sixteen stolen bases in one season; he also received the Coach's Award. Senior Bill Gillette won the Best Defensive Player Award, and senior Eric Guardino held the teams highest batting average. Honorable Mention distinctions for the All District Team were received by Bill Gillette, Eric Guardino, Mackie McCullough, and Wayne Noel.

Record Setters

When spring rolled around and the new track season began, who could have imagined the record setting season to come? The girls set seven new school records and the boys' team set two.

The boys finished fourth in the Dominion District with 4 wins and 4 losses. At the District meet Mike Watts became District Champion in the 100 meter dash with a time of 11.3 seconds, and he scored a total of 21 points for the team. Chris Mann set the first of the two records in the 300 meter hurdles — 40.2 seconds; Jeff Johnson set a record in the 800 meter run with a time of 2:01.9. Jeff also received the Rookie of the Year Award. The Most Outstanding Athlete Award was given to Mike Watts, and junior Jay Wheeler received the Coach's Award.

The girls' team did equally well, if not better. They had a record of 7-1 and placed second in the District. At the District Championships there were many who won first place distinctions: Susan Ferrell in the shot put and discus; Sonia Austin in the 100 meter dash; and the team of Austin, Kim Hunter, Candise Giles, and Towanna Pace in the 400 meter relay.

In addition, many records were also being broken by the girls. Sonia Austin was responsible for three new records. In the 200 meter run she came in with a time of 26.1 seconds, in the 100 meter dash she had a time of 12.4 seconds, and she was a part of the 400 meter relay team which had a time of 50.6 seconds. A fourth record was set by Candise Giles, Kim Hunter, Susan Mann, and Racquel Carter in the 1600 meter relay with a time of 4:10.9. Others were set by Susan Ferrell in both the discus (123.4") and the shot put (36'10¼"). Finally, Kim Hunter set the new triple jump record just beating the record by half an inch with 35'1½"!

Cheering To Victory

Working together to promote school spirit was the main job of the Varsity and JV cheerleading squads last year. Throughout the school year, fans came out to root the teams on at football and basketball games. "This made us, the cheerleaders, feel like what we were doing was all worthwhile," commented varsity cheerleader Amy Carroll.

The girls performed numerous other duties as well. Both squads painted signs, made special treats for the teams, and designated "orange and blue" days in hopes of getting students psyched up for the big games. The varsity squad also performed a half-time dance routine during the basketball games to the song "What You Need" by INXS. The girls also helped out in the Channel 23 telethon by answering phones.

Dana Kannon, co-captain of the varsity squad said, "In the beginning, we experienced many problems, but toward the end of the season, we were like big sisters. By cheering my junior and senior years, I was able to learn more about myself, and I made many new friends." JV cheerleader Kiki Larson added, "Cheering is a great way to stay in shape, and I wouldn't have traded it for the world!"

Not Just An Association

What is a club? According to Webster, a club is "an association brought together for a similar purpose." However, a club is much more than just an association; it is a small community of people who wish to further their interests. Whether a student seeks a club focusing on a foreign language, a business, a scientific, or a historical interest; one may always find others wishing to share and explore views.

This year many clubs held functions which benefited both the school and the community. The SCA sponsored and Adopt-a-Family program which collected money, food, clothing, and toys for needy families. This program provided many children and their parents with happy tidings on Thanksgiving and Christmas. In order to share their interest and knowledge with others; the History Club sponsored several trivia contests for special historical holidays. Also, S.A.D.D. (Students Against Driving Drunk) made vocal the growing concern about drinking and driving.

Everyone had ideas as to what a club may accomplish and these ideas are what make each club distinct. By maintaining the spirit with in the clubs, MHS students strengthen each one's vitality. As long as there is a will to be creative, new and exciting clubs will continue to be formed. Nothing is beyond our reach, if only we strive hard enough. Worthy ideas and a useful purpose are the lifeline of clubs, and . . .

" . . . Clubs are yet another means of Freedom Bound transport toward the distant horizon."

The 1986-87 Memoir was edited by Laura Bilyeu and Lori Blasioli, sponsored by Mr. Gabriel Pascarella, and produced with the help of a few dedicated members. These active members worked many long hours contacting sponsors and patrons, organizing fund raisers, writing stories, cropping pictures, drawing up layouts, and making sure everything was ready for the printer. Impending deadlines seemed to cause a great amount of agony, yet the burden of time eventually was proven conquerable. This menace was defeated by members dedicating much of their time to producing yearbook copy and layouts. In addition, monetary problems ensued the inflation of the price of producing the book. The printing cost shot up from $17,000 in 1986 to $19,000 in 1987. This pecuniary difficulty was overcome by the success of ad sales, book sales, and candy sales. The yearbook faced rocky times but came through successfully in the end!

Lori Blasioli commented about her experience, "I believe that editing the yearbook helped me to experience a taste of the real world. One doesn't realize just how much goes into producing just one book until he is in either Laura's, Mr. Pascarella's, or my shoes!"

Laura Bilyeu added, "Although editing was really hard work, not to mention more than I had expected, I enjoyed my experience this year. Contrary to my groaning, I was really having fun!"

France with an American Twist

The French club proved to be an excellent opportunity for those who wished to participate in additional foreign language activities. Under the direction of President Tammy Alley and sponsor Miss Karen Lowery, the French club took part in many activities throughout the year. During the Homecoming parade, the French club's float won second place in the float division. Also, the club participated in the SCA "Adopt-a-Family" program. The club sponsored a needy family during the Christmas and Thanksgiving holiday times by providing meals and gifts for the family. To celebrate the Christmas season, the French club held a party which featured the traditional French Cake Bouche de Noel, a custom of the French themselves. In the spring the French club participated in the M&M candy sales. The profits from this effort went toward providing a deserving student scholarship money to enable that person to participate in the foreign language camp at Virginia Tech. In addition, in order to remind everyone of the successful year, the club purchased T-shirts decorated with French logos. Lastly, the French club ended its year with its annual spring banquet.

Latin Lives!

Notorious for being a very active club, the 1986-87 Latin Club had one of the highest membership enrollments of an organization at Manchester. Under the sponsorship of Ms. Shirley Rash and presidency of Melissa Kinnan, the Latin Club's productivity met no bounds.

By taking part in innumerable activities, members experienced good fellowship and many fun times. A pizza party at Ms. Rash's home sparked the interest of many to join the club. Luckily, this interest persisted throughout the year. Participation in the Homecoming parade in October proved to be profitable, for the Latin Club won first place in the clubs' float division. Also, in mid-October many members and parents ventured to the Swift Creek Mill Playhouse to view the play "Little Shop of Horrors." During late November, a number of members attended the Virginia Junior Classical League Latin convention held in Norfolk. Academic competitions, craft and costume contests, and seminars provided fun and excitement. Manchester's Latin students showed their spirit and brought home numerous awards, including three first place honors. Around Thanksgiving and Christmas, members enjoyed sponsoring a mother and child in conjunction with the SCA's "Adopt-a-Family" program. Other club outings included the Saturnalia Banquet held in January, a dinner party held at the Wakiki Restaurant in March, and the famous "end-of-the-year Roman Banquet" (more commonly referred to as the TOGA PARTY!)

As the old saying "Veni, Vidi, Vici!" states, the 1986-87 Latin Club CAME, SAW, and CONQUERED!

Bienvenidos Amigos

Que? . . . the question many Spanish students were asking at the beginning of the school year. The answer was found by many in the Spanish Club, sponsored by Patricia Hoy. The club's purpose was to bring together people who enjoyed Spanish and who wished to participate in activities which normally would not occur in the classroom.

At the last meeting of the Spanish Club in the 1985-86 school year, votes were taken for officers. As expected, outstanding Spanish students received the high offices. Melinda Belcher was elected president; Kerry Patterson, vice president; Leanne Brady, secretary; and Brad Carper, treasurer. All of these students proved to be ambitious and dedicated, and they all worked hard to promote the Spanish Club.

The club was the first to use the school's new message board in the cafeteria. Members ran messages as a fund raiser. This idea was so popular that a limit had to be placed on the number of messages sold per day. Otherwise, there would not have been enough room for the regular announcements. Members also participated in other activities throughout the year. The Spanish Club had a float in the Homecoming parade in November, and members sponsored a needy family around the Christmas holiday time.

For the Spanish Club this year was full of exciting events. As one member commented, "The club added something to the school year. I suppose my year wouldn't have been as fun without it!"

Glenn Dubiel added, "The Spanish food was great!"

Maintaining Harmony

No club at Manchester High School had the ability to maintain peace and harmony between so many diverse groups as well as the Student Cooperative Association (SCA). It acted as a mediator between the administration, the faculty, and the student body; and it kept communication lines open with other neighboring high schools. "The SCA's officers have accomplished much this year, helping to establish a countywide SCA Council, and sponsoring the most successful Adopt-a-Family program to date," says sponsor Mrs. Easton. This group has done much to satisfy the student body without exceeding the regulations of the administration. If not for the SCA's constant work, the seniors would not have had their exemptions from exams. This brought a sigh of relief from the present and the forthcoming seniors as well.

Along with the other SCA sponsored school activities, the M&M sales were really up. The Adopt-a-family Program was successful in all aspects, with everyone pitching in to help. Many teachers, classes, and the school library made a campaign out of raising food. The biggest battle of all was the one between the senior and junior classes, with Mr. Storino as the seniors' General and Mrs. Saxon as the juniors' General. Both classes were winners because they made many families very happy. As a result of the excellent planning this school year went by quickly and smoothly. "I attribute this success to the enthusiasm and willingness to work of the SCA members," Mrs. Easton concluded.

Honorary Societies Recognize Exceptional MHS Students

The National Honor Society is an organization which promotes academic excellence. Members are chosen for their scholarship, character, and leadership abilities. In December Manchester's NHS held a tapping ceremony to choose twenty-nine new junior and senior members.

Under the leadership of Stacey Osborne, the NHS president, and Mrs. Breeden, the sponsor, the NHS "adopted" a needy family to make the Christmas season a little brighter. By participating in the SCA candy sale, the NHS was able to raise money for its funds. In addition, each nine weeks the NHS rewarded honor roll students with either ice cream, ribbons, or certificates. At the conclusion of the 1986-87 school year, the NHS offered a scholarship to a graduating senior; and it also held a reception for all of its senior members.

Manchester High School's Quill and Scroll is an honorary society which recognizes members for their literary achievement. Members are tapped during the spring, and a formal ceremony is held. This organization is under the direction of Mrs. Reibsamen, a member of the MHS English department.

Students Prepare For Their Future

Future Homemakers of America, sponsored by Pat Coffin, carried out successful plans. In February the club was very active, for Vocational Education Week fell in this month. A luncheon was organized for the administration, secretaries, and guidance counselors during this week; and a special Treat Day was prepared for the faculty. Moreover, a FHA Student Appreciation Day was sponsored to spotlight the club and its members. Lastly, the FHA held its third annual cake bake off.

Future Business Leaders of America had a membership of 102 students. In October club members attended the Fall Regional Workshop for Future Business Leaders of America. The club took part in the SCA's "Adopt-a-Family" program and sponsored a needy family for the Thanksgiving and Christmas Holidays. Also during Christmas, FBLA visited the Pediatric Center of Chippenham Hospital and gave candy canes and special treats to the children.

Also included in the list of clubs which were successful was DECA. Local business representatives spoke at various meetings throughout the year. Mr. John Hessian, owner of several Richmond area McDonalds, and Mrs. Sharon Miller, representative of Westmore Cosmetics, spoke to the members about business management. DECA, also, participated in the Chesterfield County District Contest, a contest which tested job skills.

Vocational Industrial Clubs of America held a variety of activities. Socially, members met for pizza and ice cream parties, and they also spent a day at King's Dominion. VICA's community activities included participation in the SCA's "Adopt-a-Family" program and maintainance of Camp Baker, a camp for retarded children. VICA took part in the District and State Conferences for vocational clubs and members competed in events which tested their skills and leadership abilities.

FHA, FBLA, DECA, and VICA proved Manchester's students' abilities to help the community and themselves.

The New and The Old

As a result of MHS students expressing their desires for new clubs, S.A.D.D. (Students Against Driving Drunk) and the History club evolved this year. Both clubs had strong memberships, and both received much student support.

Under the direction of Mrs. Jaffee and Michelle Monday, S.A.D.D. emphasized the growing concern in the community over the harmful aspects of driving while intoxicated. Throughout the year, this organization held a school-wide campaign denouncing driving under the influence of alcohol. In fact, in January S.A.D.D. invited a speaker from Northern Virginia to share with the student body the trauma which results from a drunk driving accident. To raise money for the club, S.A.D.D. sold sweatshirts with their anachronism printed on the front and "Cruise without booze!" printed on the back, and the club also sold lollipops with slogans taped to them. The sweatshirts and lollipops proved to be good reminders for the student body.

The History club, the other new club, was headed by Mrs. Vipperman and Pam Cox. Throughout the year, the club sponsored several trivia contests; these included contests for Columbus Day, Veterans Day, Pearl Harbor Day, Lee-Jackson Day, and Black History Month. Also, the club visited many historic sites throughout the state. In October the History Club visited the Chesterfield County Museum, the old jail, and the Magnolia Grange Plantation. The club took a walking tour of Church Hill in November, and the group visited the Confederate Museum and the Confederate White House. In addition, members toured Agecroft Hall, a fifteenth century home built in England; and they also enjoyed dining at the Halfway House, a colonial restaurant. In April the History Club visited the Hollywood Cemetery and the Virginia War Memorial. Lastly, the group concluded its fun-filled year with a tour of the Dooley Mansion, a nineteenth century home, and a picnic at Maymont Park.

The Science Club, although not a new club, is an example of how a club which promotes academic excelleration can last. This year the Science Club was sponsored by Mr. John Thorton, and it was also led by Penny Lacks. During the year, members enjoyed learning more about the space program from a lecturer from NASA. In addition, the club invited speakers to Manchester to share their knowledge in the science of marine biology. Members were given a brief but enlightening overview of the many different facets of SCIENCE.

Hopefully, the History Club and S.A.D.D. will prove to be lasting clubs as the Science Club has been. Only time will tell.

Top Vocalists Prove Their Talents

Madrigals and Capital Swing are the two most selective choral groups at Manchester. These two groups consist of students who wish to explore and pursue their musical talents. Under the direction of Mrs. Susan Wood, members of these groups worked with her to strengthen the MHS choral department.

Capital Swing entertained at various functions and took part in competitions throughout Virginia and North Carolina. In September Capital Swing dazzled the public with its flawless, meticulous routines at the Virginia State Fair. Once more, in February the group stole the show with its halftime performance for the state finals game at the Robins Center. Also, the group performed at Festival, a county-wide competition, and received a SUPERIOR rating. Performances in Raleigh, North Carolina and Lynchburg, Virginia both provided good experience for the Capital Swing group. In fact, at the Blue Ridge Invitational in Lynchburg, the group won the first runner-up award and also brought home awards for best vocal and best instrumental. In the spring Capital Swing attended another invitational at James Madison University. At this competition, the group ended its year by proving itself to be Virginia's #1 show choir, and their band won the trophy for the most outstanding band in the entire festival.

The Madrigals also captured the hearts of many when the group performed at different churches and elderly homes throughout the Richmond area. At Festival the group received a SUPERIOR rating as a result of their hard work and dedication. A change of style was evident in the Madrigal's performance at James Madison, for the group deviated from its traditional style and sang vocal jazz.

Special recognition was bestowed upon students who showed extraordinary talent. Several students from both groups were selected to participate in the All-Regional chorus, and from that group seven students were asked to take part in the All-State chorus. Included in this talented group were Todd Early, Michael Berkley, Channon Chambers, Pally Hathaway, Jay Wheeler, Ginger Wilson, and Shawn Woodard.

Excellent and Superior Ratings Received

The chorus program at Manchester is constantly expanding to offer many new students a chance to participate. This year Lance Singers, Mixed Chorus, and Girls Ensemble were taken over by Miss Robin Moore, a new faculty member. "Enthusiastic is the one word I would choose to describe the Manchester choral department. The students have made me feel welcomed at Manchester," commented Miss Moore.

The choral groups stayed quite busy throughout the year. They gave a Christmas concert in December as well as some additional concerts for the school. These choral groups also participated in a festival, an event in which choirs are rated on their performance of musical pieces. Lance Singers, Mixed Chorus, and Girls Ensemble all received excellent and superior ratings. This successful year was ended with the annual spring concert. Having worked at Manchester for a year, Miss Moore stated, "It's a great feeling to be able to work with such talented and dedicated students."

Guilty or Not Guilty?

"The best thing about Tryptic Players is the comaderie that comes with working on stage. But there is also a personal satisfaction that comes from developing your own character," said historian Kristen Setelin. President Tracy Lucas talked about her fondest memories: "Some of my most unforgettable memories are our initiation parties and seeing members dressed in their outrageous costumes, ranging from Kara Gallagher as Mr. T to Johnathan Shipley as Don Johnson, and myself as Buckwheat."

Some of the newest members were in the first play of the season (Night of January 16th. This production was a courtroom drama written by Ayn Rand about a secretary who was accused of murdering her boss. It starred Amy Bucklen as District Attorney, Flint and Johnathan Shipley as Defense Attorney, Stevens. Kristen Setelin played the accused, Daren Andre. Supporting cast members were Dora Byrd Rowe, Chris White, Kati Nichols, Claudia Turner, Wansena Bolger, Richard Anderl, Anita Preville, Eric Papendorp, Aaron Dotson, Kara Gallagher, Cindy Seamster, Joel Traylor, Deanna Putney, Richie Taylor, Larry Harmon, Polly Hathaway, and Tracy Lucas. Mr. Ray Goss directed and Mrs. Fran Arbough assisted.

The play was unique in that the audience rendered the decision of guilty or not guilty. In all three performances the audience's decision remained the same — not guilty.

Pondering her fate, Karen Andre (Krista Setelin) awaits the jury's decision.

Poly Hathaway awaits her cue while Michael Berkley plays the piano.

What's the next line? Aaron Dotson and Amy run through a scene.

Aaron Dotson and Krista Setelin enjoy a laugh backstage before the opening night performance.

Michael Berkley and Polly Hathaway provide the musical accompaniment for Spoon River Anthology.

Second Time Around

Edgar Lee Master's Spoon River Anthology was the Triptych Players' second play of the year. Under the direction of Ray Goss and Fran Arbaugh, six students made the play a success. Freshman Aaron Dotson, junior Richie Taylor, and seniors Amy Bucklen and Krista Setelin took on the demanding acting roles; and seniors Michael Berkley and Polly Hathaway provided the background music, an important part of the play.

Spoon River Anthology is a conglomeration of selections from a book of dramatic poetry. The play encompasses a number of various personalities returning from the grave to reflect on parts of their lives. Because there were only four actors involved in the production of the play, each took on the responsibility of portraying fifteen to twenty different characters. The difficulty in this play lay in making sure each character had his/her own distinguishing qualities. The actors had to rely upon simple costume changes, adjustments which were made in the dim lighting of the obscure parts of the stage, and their own skill to aid them in their transitions.

All six participants were praised highly by Mr. Goss, and he was pleased with how well those having a lot of experience worked with those just beginning. Amy Bucklen commented, "Spoon River Anthology is definitely one of the best plays that the Triptych Players have put on in the past four years. It deserves such a compliment not because of the acting or direction; those are perennial constants. What made this play an exception was the quality of content and the surprising positive reaction of the audience."

Aaron Dotson and Krista Setelin practice a scene.

Lancers Deeply Appreciate All Donations and Support

For many year local businesses and individuals have been supporting the Manchester Lancers in their efforts to produce a sensational yearbook. Continuing the tradition, community business leaders once more extended their support to Manchester by placing ads in the yearbook. Again, patrons and business patrons also donated appreciated monetary sums.

Because of an unexpected increase in the cost of printing the yearbook, staff members were faced with raising over two-thousand dollars to cover the additional expenditures. Fortunately, there was a phenomenal turn over in Lancer supporters this year. Over sixty businesses, parents, friends, and students either bought ads or donated money.

A collage of many of Manchester's supporters.

The success of this book may be attributed not only to the yearbook staff but also to those who support the Lancers. Contributions are essential in allowing the Memoir to be published. If donations had not been received, then those of us (especially seniors) who are FREEDOM BOUND would be left with few memories.

However, a helping hand has been extended to us, and we have memories.

Colophon

As the summer of 1986 began to wind down, Memoir Editors-in-Chief Laura Bilyeu and Lori Blasioli decided that it was finally time to direct their attention toward the toils which lay ahead. The first day of school hit hard, and yearbook deadlines became a reality. With the help of a few dedicated staff members and an understanding sponsor, Mr. Gabe Pascarella, not one deadline was missed — an accomplishment which speaks for itself!

Volume 49 of The Memoir of Manchester High School, Richmond, Virginia, was silkscreened on the front, the backbone, and the back by Herff Jones of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. It underwent a press run of 775 copies, each with 188 pages. The binding is Smyth sewn, and each page has a trim size of 9 X 12. The cover is Smoky Blue with applied color of Brilliant Orange #10. The end sheets are Grey, and Bordeaux paper was used throughout the book.

All lettering was done by Herff Jones with print type of Stymie and Century Schoolbook. Stymie 6pt. was used for Senior and Faculty activities; 8pt. was used for captions, tab folios, and underclassmen names; 10pt. was used for body copy; and 24, 36, 60, and 72pt. were used for all heads. All rule lines were set by Herff Jones in 2, 6, and 12pt. Advertisement borders were #04. All grey screen pages were 30% full bleed.

Camera Post, Delmar Studios, and members of the Photography classes developed all prints used. Senior portraits were taken by Delmar and Heather Studios, and all underclassmen mugs were taken by Delmar Studios.

The Fledgling

So, art thou feathered, art thou flown,
Thou naked thing? — and canst alone
Upon the unsolid summer air
Sustain thyself, and prosper there?

Shall I no more with anxious note
Advise thee through the happy day,
Thrusting the worm into thy throat,
Bearing thine excrement away?

Alas, I think I see thee yet,
Perched on the windy parapet,
Defer thy flight a moment still
To clean thy wing with a careful bill.

And thou art feathered, thou art flown;
And hast a project of thine own.
